Summary of Activities during the Year

Gratitude and Growth - Celebrating Another Glorious Year

We are delighted to extend our heartfelt gratitude to God for His faithfulness, grace and provision throughout the last year. Looking back, we are thankful for the opportunities given to International Bible Christian Fellowship (IBCF) to strengthen the spiritual life of our members, support our young people, welcome newcomers and positively engage with the wider Middlesbrough community.

Throughout the year, we hosted several guest ministers and speakers who contributed to the continuous spiritual nourishment of the congregation. Their ministry provided opportunities for members to receive encouragement, gain fresh perspectives and deepen their understanding of the Christian faith. These engagements remain an important part of our commitment to providing a balanced spiritual, social and educational environment for our members.

We also held a successful two-day workers' retreat for our voluntary workers. The retreat provided an opportunity for workers to step away from their usual responsibilities, receive encouragement and motivation, and develop skills that would help them serve more effectively. It also strengthened teamwork and renewed the commitment of our volunteers, whose dedication and selfless service continue to play a vital role in the life and growth of the church.

Our children's seminar and workshop was repeated this year following the positive experience of the previous year. The programme provided a refreshing and engaging holiday experience for our children, giving them the opportunity to listen to speakers, participate in team activities and build friendships with one another. The continued success of this initiative highlights the importance of creating positive opportunities for the spiritual, social and personal development of our younger generation.

IBCF has also continued its commitment to welcoming and supporting international students arriving at Teesside University. Recognising the challenges associated with settling into a new country and environment, we have provided guidance, advice, encouragement and practical support to new foreign students as they begin their studies and establish themselves in Middlesbrough. This remains an important part of our efforts to make our church a welcoming community for people from different backgrounds.

One of the new initiatives introduced during the year was our football tournament, which has provided a positive platform for youth engagement, healthy recreation and community integration. The tournament brought members of the wider community together in a friendly and constructive environment, helping to build relationships and encourage positive engagement among young people. We are pleased that the IBCF team emerged as winners of the tournament. Given the positive response and opportunities created through the initiative, we intend to continue developing the football tournament in the years ahead.

Another significant development has been the launch of the Nehemiah Project, our new community outreach initiative. The project aims to provide practical support to members of the wider Middlesbrough community through the provision of food, clothing, groceries and counselling. During the year, work has focused on establishing the necessary structures and arrangements for the project. We anticipate that the Nehemiah Project will formally launch in the new financial year and become an important part of our ongoing commitment to serving those in need within our community.

Our annual Church Day Out was once again a successful occasion, providing members and their families with an opportunity to relax, fellowship and strengthen relationships outside the usual church setting. The day included physical activities, food and positive networking, alongside free medical checks and consultations. This combination of fellowship, physical activity and health awareness contributed to a well-rounded and enjoyable experience for everyone involved.

Overall, 2026 has been a year of continued spiritual growth, fellowship, community engagement and service. We are grateful for the dedication of our ministers, voluntary workers, members and supporters, whose contributions have made these activities possible. Their commitment remains central to the continued growth and impact of IBCF.

As we look towards the coming year, we are excited about building on the progress made this year. In particular, we look forward to expanding the football tournament, formally launching the Nehemiah Project and continuing our programmes for spiritual development, children, international students and the wider community.

In conclusion, we thank God for His guidance and blessings throughout the year. We remain confident that, through continued unity, commitment and service, IBCF will be able to make an even greater positive impact on the lives of our members and the wider community in the years ahead. May God continue to bless our church, our members, volunteers and supporters as we journey together in faith and service.
