Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document	The objects of the charity are to promote: - The relief of poverty; - Education and training amongst vulnerable young people in Africa.
Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects	The principal activity of Confident Children Out of Conflict UK (CCC UK) is the funding of the education of street children of South Sudan. We do this primarily by providing financial and other support to the charity Confident Children Uganda which supports former street children from South Sudan who have taken refuge in Uganda. These are mainly girls who have in the past been affected by poverty, gender-based violence and/or displaced by internal conflict in South Sudan. Our vision is to enable vulnerable children to thrive so that they can develop into competent young adults and reach their full potential. A number of South Sudanese children who were previously supported by Confident Children out of Conflict South Sudan in Juba have been supported in boarding school in Uganda by Confident Children Uganda since 2014/15. The first few of these children are now graduating from secondary school. In addition to funding CCC, we occasionally fund organisations that support the education and training of vulnerable young people in South Sudan. At present our support is limited to South Sudanese children. We only fund organisations that are known to the trustees. We do not accept unsolicited requests for funding. All trustees have read the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit and have had regard for this guidance in all decision making.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year	The trustees of CCC UK are pleased to present this eighth Annual Report to the Charity Commission. At the close of the previous reporting period (i.e. 31st December 2024) CCC UK's cash funds stood at £20,464.48. CCC UK's donations during the CCC UK Annual Return reporting period have come principally from individual donors and fundraising campaigns, but also donations from faith groups and a charitable foundation. The CCC UK Trustees would like to express our gratitude to our supporters for their ongoing partnership in this critical work. The Board carried out a Christmas fundraiser and issued a newsletter to those who regularly donate. CCC UK is also very grateful for a couple of very large anonymous donations received this year. Given various prominent crises around the world, fundraising for this cause has been increasingly difficult in the UK, particularly as a small charity. CCC UK is keen to work to support continued education for at least some of the most vulnerable South Sudanese children, especially those we have supported since CCC UK's foundation. The board met four times throughout the year with notes documented. In the previous reporting period the CCC UK Board had decided to focus continuing support to those South Sudanese refugee children who are at the moment being supported by Confident Children Uganda. Many of these were previously supported from a young age when they lived in Juba, South Sudan. CCC UK's Chair of Trustees was resident in Kampala, Uganda for part of this year, which was especially helpful for communication between trustees and the management of Confident Children Uganda. We also received school reports, photos and updates on the progress the children are making at school and those who have graduated. We gave a commitment to continue to fund the Support Worker for Confident Children Uganda and to continue to fund the education of the girls CCC UK has been supporting. In addition, through its contingency CCC UK was able to provide bridge funding to support other young children who needed support. The Support Worker has supported the girls for around 12 years now, both in South Sudan and now in Uganda. She cares for the children during the holidays in the charity's house in Kampala and supports them with the co-ordination of their education during term time, as well as cares for them pastorally throughout the year. The funds for the girls cover their school fees, school materials, toiletries, medical costs and a contribution to costs of living in the main Confident Children Uganda house during holidays.

Policy on reserves	The Trustees felt there was no need for a policy on reserves while the charity has no staff. This view is periodically reviewed.
