Policy on grant making (The charity's grant policy is summarised as for the benefit of this report):	The trustees translate the above objects into the following aim: Equipping vulnerable children with the financial and material support needed to break the poverty cycle and thrive, through direct action or strategic partnerships that strengthen local service delivery and capacity. Trustees' Priorities that pertain to this policy In line with JWCA's strategic objectives for the next five years, the board has agreed the following priorities: 1. Partner Selection JWCA will engage exclusively with partners who have been directly identified and vetted by the charity. A public application system is not in operation. 2. Educational Collaboration The charity will collaborate with local agencies working alongside schools to extend its reach and better support the educational needs of vulnerable children. 3. Targeted Financial Support JWCA will provide restricted grants to support specific interventions addressing urgent needs within schools, orphanages, and other local service agencies. What Jacobs Well Child Africa supports: JWCA identifies and approaches suitable local organisations—primarily in Africa and the UK, through targeted research, in alignment with its charitable objectives and priorities. Once identified, the charity conducts interviews and requests evidence of beneficiaries to assess the organisation's suitability. Based on this, trustees determine the scope and nature of support. The charity's objects allow for considerable flexibility in the types of programmes it can support. Currently, JWCA focuses on meeting children's essential needs in the areas of education, shelter, food and clothing, and health. When selecting causes to support, JWCA gives preference to working directly with organisations such as orphanages and schools that: • Have limited or no access to substantial external assistance

	• Serve a sufficient number of children to ensure meaningful impact • Facilitate straightforward measurement of direct outcomes JWCA is gradually refining its focus to specialise in key areas of need and will prioritise such opportunities where all other factors are equal. Given its limited manpower, JWCA strongly prefers to work with organisations capable of conducting thorough casework and needs assessments, and of reporting these findings clearly to the charity. While JWCA does not currently operate a public application system, trustees may consider unsolicited proposals in future—provided they fall within the charity's objects. Any such request must include realistic costings and a clear explanation of the project's intended outcomes and alignment with JWCA's priorities. Types of Grants Jacobs Well Child Africa Will Award: JWCA provides financial assistance to beneficiaries through the following grant types: 1. One-Off Grants These may include support for specific items such as furnishings for a new children's home or school, or provision of school uniforms. (Examples only.) 2. Recurring Grants Regular financial support may be provided at agreed intervals, e.g. annual lease payments, termly school fees, or monthly groceries for an orphanage. These grants are offered on a short-term basis, subject to the charity's financial capacity. 3. a. Trustees will set a clear end date for each grant to safeguard resources and limit liability. b. Agreements may be renewed with a revised end date, where appropriate. c. JWCA aims to remain flexible in the type and structure of support offered to partners. 4. Health-Related Grants Support may be awarded for health initiatives, including mental health programmes and other interventions that alleviate illness or promote wellbeing for its beneficiaries.
Contribution made by volunteers	Currently the Charity has no volunteers working directly for it (except the 3 trustees) but hope to recruit in some of the capacities mentioned below in the near future. Volunteers indirectly through our partners play a vital role in supporting JWCA's mission. Their contributions include: • Administrative Support: Assisting with documentation, communications, and logistical coordination. • Fundraising and Advocacy: Helping raise awareness and mobilise resources through events, campaigns, and personal networks.

	• Programme Delivery: Supporting partner organisations with local outreach, educational activities, and child welfare initiatives, where appropriate and under supervision. • Professional Expertise: Offering skills in areas such as finance, safeguarding, communications, and strategic planning. JWCA recognises the value and impact of volunteers. They significantly enhance the charity's reach and effectiveness. Trustees remain committed to ensuring volunteers directly or indirectly are supported, appropriately briefed, and engaged in line with the charity's safeguarding and operational policies. .

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	In line with the year objectives for 2025 – The charity achieved the following:	JWCA partnered with The Neo Child Initiative (TNCI) in Nigeria to collaborate on a project called, the 'Hanging Libraries project. A hanging library is a quick and cost effective method of creating a library resource in under resourced schools. These are schools with a demographic that matches JWCAs profile for underprivileged children. JWCA supported the establishment of 10 hanging libraries across 10 of the most deprived schools in Lagos, Nigeria providing each school with a dedicated collection of books Collectively, the 10 hanging libraries benefited 1,465 children across the participating schools. The trustees remain committed to the charity's mission and objectives, and have used this period to reflect, consolidate, and prepare for future engagement. Plans for reactivation and strategic development are under consideration for the coming year. The project has expanded access to books and encouraged children to borrow and read more regularly. Within six months, participating schools reported marked improvements in pupils' classroom reading and writing, alongside growing enthusiasm for books. These early outcomes indicate that the hanging libraries are strengthening literacy, supporting educational attainment and giving disadvantaged children a stronger foundation for breaking the cycle of poverty. The project also contributes to progress towards the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal on quality education for Nigeria.

A description of the principal risks facing the charity		Financial risk: During the year 2026 (not the current accounting year 2025), the charity's previous banking arrangements came to an end. Trustees are currently establishing alternative banking facilities and have taken appropriate steps to ensure the charity's activities continue as normal. The Current economic downturn in the UK continues to have a negative impact on the public purse. Funding from Government & Foundation trusts has declined for all charities in particular NGOs working internationally. Managing Risk JWCA will reduce long term funding commitments to mitigate and tighten grant criteria where possible. JWCA will also make fewer commitments for now concentrating on existing partners. Partnership risk: JWCA acknowledges that it has limited control over how partner organisations may respond to the current economic downturn, which could impact the continuity of support for beneficiaries. Managing Risk The charity continues to invest time in identifying and vetting potential partners through careful research and direct engagement. This approach helps safeguard the credibility of partner organisations and protects the reputation and integrity of JWCA. Transaction risk: Recent fluctuations in exchange rates, particularly the weakening of the pound, have reduced the relative value of donations, meaning funds no longer stretch as far as they did in the previous year. However, in some regions such as Nigeria, currency depreciation has resulted in the pound gaining greater local purchasing power. While this may increase the reach of JWCA's financial support, the trustees remain mindful of the broader economic hardship such currency shifts impose on local communities. The charity continues to approach international grant-making with sensitivity, ensuring that support is both impactful and respectful of local realities. However, there has also been flunctuating exchange rates in particular, Nigeria, which means the pound will go further. Managing Risk JWCA conducts all international transactions through regulated banking channels, relying on official bank rates. Where grants are issued abroad, they are typically paid in either US dollars or Sterling to help mitigate the impact of local currency volatility. Terrorism/fraud: JWCA follows due diligence procedures in identifying and screening donors. Suspicious donations will be cross checked under the prescribed UK terrorism list. Trustees also attend training offered to charities that address fraud internationally and money laundering. As a small charity, JWCA recognises that fraud, rather than terrorism, is the more immediate risk. To mitigate this, the charity is committed to strengthening its internal controls and adopting proportionate safeguards. Managing Risk: JWCA has a dual authorisation for all payments requiring two authorised trustees to sign and approve ALL financial transactions. The charity avoids cash handling as much as possible but recognises the need for cash especially when working overseas with limited banking facilities. That amount is set at £500 limit. Bribery & Corruption: JWCA ensure all payments go through the banking system to establish an audit trail. The charity has a policy against bribery that all trustees are fully aware of. No grants will be awarded on the basis of 'gifts' be it financial or otherwise. Currency Conversion: Due diligence must be taken in ensuring the correct currency is used in transferring money overseas as an incorrect currency could lead to loss of money. Managing Risk Trustees must never embark on international money transfers without double checking the currency type the partners account is in e.g Sterling, US Dollars or local currency. Strategic Exchange Rate: The trustees remain mindful of ongoing exchange rate volatility, particularly the weakening of the pound against major currencies during 2024. This poses a strategic risk to the charity's ability to maximise the impact of donations abroad. Managing Risk While JWCA mitigates transaction-level risk through bank-regulated transfers and currency choice, the broader financial environment continues to influence planning and grant valuation. Trustees will monitor these trends as part of ongoing financial oversight. The charity is exploring ways to time certain interventions in response to favourable exchange rate movements, such as local currency depreciation or UK currency appreciation—in order to maximise the impact of its resources. However, this approach is not always feasible, as partner needs and programme timelines do not necessarily align with currency fluctuations.

Note 26 Events after the end of the reporting period

Please complete this note events (not requiring adjustment to the accounts) have occurred after the end of the reporting period but before the accounts are authorised which relate to conditions that arose after the end of the reporting period.

	This year	Last year
Please provide details of the nature of the event	Unfortunately the charity was debanked in January 2026. The trustees are continuing to deliberate and seek new banking facilities.	Due to personal setbacks the charity was forced to postpone new commitments but continues to be confident of new donors in the future and of its commitment to its goals.
Provide an estimate of the financial effect of the event or a statement that such an estimate cannot be made	JWCA had made a verbal promise to support an orphanage for disabled children in Nigeria in 2026 The plan is to provide beddings toys & fruit for the children. We cannot make an exact statement of cost but roughly the plan was to give £250-£500).	The charity is unable to estimate accurately the financial effect of the setback because it had no outsanding committments to beneficiaries that would make it liable. However, there is an unquantifiable cost to 'beneficiaries', because it meant it was unable to partner to provide support for much needed resources.
