Breman Africa Youth Foundation

TRUSTEES' ANNUAL REPORT & RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS ACCOUNT

Reporting period: 1 January 2025 – 31 December 2025

Registered charity number: 1186878

A year of care, connection and resilience

2025 was a quieter year for Breman Africa Youth Foundation (BAYF). The ill health of the charity's secretary, who is also a trustee, affected the charity's capacity to organise and deliver activities. Despite these challenges, our commitment to supporting children and young people in Ghana remained strong.

During the year, the charity funded the £40 delivery of a parcel for a children's home in Kumasi. This modest but meaningful contribution reflects BAYF's continued connection with the communities and children it seeks to support.

Our purpose and public benefit

BAYF works to support the learning, development and wellbeing of children and young people in Breman and surrounding communities in Ghana. Our charitable focus includes practical support for vulnerable children and young people, and encouraging opportunities for their development. The trustees have considered the charity's purposes and the public benefit of its activities when reviewing the year.

Activities and progress in 2025

Support for children's homes. A parcel was delivered for a children's home in Kumasi, with BAYF meeting the £40 delivery cost. This maintained a practical link with the charity's beneficiaries during a period of reduced activity.

Creative fundraising. One trustee has been making jewellery and craft items and contributing a portion of proceeds from sales to support the charity's work. This is an encouraging, grassroots way to raise awareness and generate future support. The charity has not separately quantified these contributions in this narrative; only money actually received by BAYF during the reporting period is included in the accounts below.

Continuity through a difficult year. The trustees acknowledge that ill health reduced the pace of projects and fundraising. The charity nevertheless maintained its charitable purpose and carried funds forward to support future work.

Looking ahead: priorities for 2026

- Re-establish a manageable programme of support for children's homes and young people in Ghana.
- Develop small-scale fundraising, including trustee-led jewellery and craft sales, with clear records of funds received.
- Strengthen shared trustee responsibilities and continuity arrangements so activities are less dependent on one individual.
- Continue to document donations, deliveries and outcomes to demonstrate public benefit.

A connection that matters

The photograph below illustrates BAYF's connection with a children's home in Kumasi. It is included as an illustration of the charity's work and is not presented as independent evidence of the date or contents of the 2025 delivery.
