- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The Foundation's principal objectives are to promote, for the public benefit, the conservation and improvement of the physical and natural environment and the protection and safeguarding of flora and fauna, including the preservation of their natural habitat by (but not exclusively):

- Providing grants to registered charities which carry out work compatible with the objects of the CIO
- Purchasing of and investing in land used as the natural habitat of both flora and fauna, and areas of natural beauty and scientific interest
- Supporting projects within local communities which directly or indirectly assist in the promotion and advancement of the objects of the CIO.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The trustees had previously undertaken initial research both in the UK and abroad to identify specific conservation projects that they believe are capable of offering the best opportunities to meet their objectives outlined above.

With the limited funds available to the Foundation at this early stage in its development the trustees have undertook this initial research themselves rather than engage third parties or volunteers.

The trustees continue to evaluate the prospect for developing the Foundation's own projects and believe that there will be opportunities, specifically as noted below in section D of this report.

The trustees are not yet in a position to make grants due to its limited resources.

The trustees continue to believe that with the benefit of their initial research they will be in a better position to obtain additional funding and so develop selected projects themselves or in conjunction with suitable charities and non-governmental organisations (NGOs) in this sector.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Section D Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The research to date (as noted above) has focussed on a project in Costa Rica where the trustees consider there is significant support for conservation projects of all kinds but particularly those connected with the protection and safeguarding of flora and fauna, including the preservation of their natural habitat.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves	The Foundation's expenditure at the moment is limited which informs the trustees' policy to maintain a minimum level of reserves based on the expected expenditure over the next twelve months.
Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.
