Structure governance and management

The Foundation is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation, as recorded in its previously filed report, and is governed by a constitution. The trustees are responsible for its direction, oversight of charitable activities and stewardship of its resources.

Constitution date and provisions for appointing trustees: [confirm from the governing document, including any person or organisation entitled to appoint trustees].

Background and charitable purposes

DTAF was established in memory of Dr Tunde Aladesanmi and his fellow doctors, known as the Ekiti 7, who died in a road traffic crash on 24 April 2016 while travelling to a Nigerian Medical Association meeting.

The Foundation seeks to reduce deaths and life-changing disability on Nigerian roads through road-safety education, awareness and collaboration with relevant organisations. Its activities include practical first-responder education for transport workers and road-safety outreach for schoolchildren. This summary of its purposes should be checked against the constitution before approval.

Activities during the reporting year

Regular giving raised £1,100 during the year. Specific charitable activities and preparatory work undertaken within this period are to be confirmed before approval.

Subsequent events after 1 April 2026

The anniversary programme took place after this reporting year: on 24–25 April 2026 in Ado-Ekiti and Ibadan, followed by school outreach on 12 May. These activities belong to 2026–2027 and are included here as a subsequent-events update. The theme was “A Decade of Remembrance – Honouring Our Unforgettable Seven”. DTAF worked with NMA Ekiti, the FRSC and medical colleagues.

Ado Ekiti programme

On 24 April, a memorial health walk brought together medical practitioners, FRSC personnel, students, community representatives and members of the public. Road-safety pamphlets, banners and reflective jackets supported the public-awareness activity. FRSC patrol vehicles escorted the procession.

A joint NMA–DTAF memorial lecture was delivered by Professor Johnson Dare Ogunsusi on physician wellbeing and ethical practice. It explored burnout prevention, professional responsibilities and the humanitarian legacy of the departed colleagues.

On 25 April, training at the FRSC facility covered road safety, emergency scene management, calling emergency services, basic first-responder interventions and prevention of secondary injuries. Participants included drivers, commercial transport operators, students, community volunteers and FRSC personnel.

Ibadan programme

A parallel remembrance event at FRSC Eleyele on 24 April included road-safety awareness sessions, public engagement, memorial reflections and media interactions.

On 25 April, a practical programme at Iwo Road Motor Park addressed the theme “Bridging the First Responder Gap”. It targeted bus and taxi drivers, tricycle operators, motorcycle riders and other road users. Teaching covered BLS, CPR, airway principles, recovery position, safe casualty handling and emergency communication, using manikins and demonstrations.

The faculty came from the Department of Anaesthesia, University College Hospital, Ibadan, under the leadership of Professor Olayinka Eyelade.

School outreach and public awareness

On 12 May, road-safety lectures reached five schools in Ekiti State: three in Ado-Ekiti and two in Dr Aladesanmi’s hometown. Topics included pedestrian safety, safe crossing, road signs and personal responsibility. FRSC Highway Code copies were distributed to selected schools. The planned zebra crossing was deferred because of financial constraints. No corresponding school programme took place in Ibadan.

The organiser’s report records television, radio and online publicity, alongside photography and videography. It reports participation by hundreds of transport operators and road users; an exact attendance total was not supplied. These activities demonstrate educational reach, while reductions in crashes or mortality have not been measured.

Financial review

Eleven monthly donations of £100 were received from May 2025 to March 2026, beginning on 31 May 2025, totalling £1,100.00. The HSBC statements also show a £5.00 charge refund and a £0.01 PayPal credit. Total cash receipts were therefore £1,105.01; bank charges totalled £15.00. Opening cash was £0.00 and closing cash was £1,090.01.

Financial summary	GBP
Opening balance	0.00
Eleven monthly donations	1,100.00
Refund of bank charges	5.00
PayPal verification credit	0.01
Bank charges	(15.00)
Closing bank balance	1,090.01

The previously unexplained £9.99 is now reconciled. HSBC charged £5.00 on 23 May 2025 and refunded £5.00 on the same date. Further £5.00 charges were debited on 23 June and 23 July 2025. A £0.01 credit described as “PAYPAL CODE” was received on 14 January 2026. Net bank charges were £10.00; the 1p credit reduces the net difference from donations to £9.99.

The subsequent April–May 2026 programme cost NGN 2,121,000. At the programme report’s historical conversion rate of NGN 1,837 to £1, this equals £1,154.60. These costs are excluded from 2025–2026 cash expenditure and the detailed programme schedule remains supporting material for the following year.

Subsequent programme reimbursements

Dr Kenneth Adegoke personally advanced the programme costs. The charity reimbursed £1,000.00 on 6 July 2026 and £154.60 on 9 July 2026, totalling £1,154.60. Both payments fall within 2026–2027.

These reimbursements are excluded from cash payments for the year ended 1 April 2026. The confirmed £1,090.01 closing bank balance carries forward into the next period; later income and transactions must be reconciled separately.

The HSBC statement for 3 March to 2 April 2026 shows closing cash of £1,090.01, matching the year-end balance supplied by the trustee. This summary supports the report; accompanying annual accounts and a statement of assets and liabilities should be completed before filing.

Public benefit and volunteers

The charity's purposes concern safer road use and improved immediate assistance after collisions. During the reporting year, eleven regular donations provided £1,100 towards its work. Details of any education, outreach or anniversary preparation actually undertaken before 2 April 2026 remain to be confirmed. The subsequent programme described above provided road-safety education and practical emergency-response teaching; it is not presented as an achievement of 2025–2026.

Statement for trustee confirmation before approval: In planning the charity's activities, the trustees have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

The trustees thank the volunteers, medical faculty, FRSC personnel, NMA colleagues and supporters who contributed time, expertise and practical assistance. Their contribution supported delivery of the programme alongside the donations received.

Reserves and future plans

Reserves policy: - see attached . Closing cash was £1,090.01. The July 2026 programme reimbursements are subsequent-period payments.

Proposed priorities for the next phase are to sustain first-responder and BLS education, expand school outreach and strengthen partnerships with the FRSC, medical organisations and transport groups. The Foundation also intends to seek further donations and suitable grants, improve programme records and develop proportionate measures of attendance, learning and follow-up. The deferred zebra-crossing initiative will be reconsidered when funding and local approvals allow.
