The period from 1 January 2025 to 31 March 2026 was among the most significant in the short history of Fighting With Pride. Long fought for measures of recognition began to reach LGBT+ veterans; His Majesty The King dedicated a permanent national memorial; and the charity strengthened its leadership and capacity to serve an Armed Forces community still living with the consequences of the historic ban.

Throughout the period, the Board remained focused on Fighting With Pride's charitable purpose: to support, connect and represent LGBT+ veterans, serving personnel and their families; to secure restorative justice; and to help rebuild the relationship between those harmed by the ban and the wider Armed Forces family. Demand grew substantially as the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme moved into its delivery phase. The accounts also show that, despite a surplus across all funds, the charity ended the period with a deficit in its unrestricted funds. That distinction is central to our plans for the next stage of the charity's work and has led to a significant improvement in the charity's financial governance and oversight.

Leadership governance and strategy

The charity entered 2025 at the end of a period of leadership transition. Our co-founders, Craig Jones MBE and Caroline Paige MBE, stepped down from their respective roles after building Fighting With Pride from an idea into a nationally respected charity and a powerful voice for LGBT+ veterans. The Board records its deep gratitude for their vision, courage and determination, and for the legacy they have created.

Peter Gibson joined as Chief Executive in April 2025. Working with the Board, staff, volunteers and community, he led a period of consolidation and renewal. New governance arrangements established during 2024 continued to mature through committee oversight, improved financial and management systems, stronger reporting to trustees, regular review of organisational risks and the continuing development of policy and controls.

The Board developed its risk register, clarified trustee responsibilities and strengthened executive reporting. Regular scrutiny at and between the quarterly full trustee meetings covered finance, fundraising, operations, safeguarding, communications and strategic delivery. The trustees also continued to document decisions and define the respective roles of the Board and executive team, with the aim of making these arrangements transparent for beneficiaries as well as accountable to funders and regulators.

A substantial consultation on the charity's future direction in 2025 reaffirmed the importance of remaining rooted in the lived experience of those affected by the ban whilst extending our welcome and relevance across the wider LGBTQ+ Armed Forces community. The resulting strategic direction provides a clearer basis for the charity's work towards 2030. The Board navigated organisational change and differing stakeholder perspectives whilst maintaining its focus on beneficiaries and its collective responsibility for the charity.

Restorative justice and the Financial Recognition Scheme

The launch of the LGBT Financial Recognition Scheme in December 2024 changed the nature and volume of demand placed upon the charity. During 2025, Fighting With Pride became a central source of trusted information, practical application support and individual advocacy. Our community team helped veterans understand eligibility requirements, assemble evidence, navigate delays and, where necessary, consider review or appeal. This increased demand exposed some weaknesses in a young organisation. As a consequence, improvement work on communications, data handling and internal management processes produced measurable progress during the year.
The Board welcomed Ministry of Defence progress in implementing Lord Etherton's recommendations whilst continuing to highlight significant inequities in their application. Fighting With Pride advocated for a fair, accessible and timely process, including recognition for those whose careers ended through forced or coerced resignation and those affected before 1967.

A permanent place of recognition

On 27 October 2025, His Majesty The King dedicated the LGBT+ Armed Forces Community Memorial at the National Memorial Arboretum. It provides permanent national recognition of the service, sacrifice and suffering of LGBT+ members of the Armed Forces, and it now stands as a visible testament to a history that must not be forgotten. The Memorial was a significant national project delivered on time and under budget by the charity.
Its delivery reflected collaboration between Fighting With Pride, the Ministry of Defence, the National Memorial Arboretum, the three Services, artists and members of the community whose experiences shaped its creation. The public and private support of the Royal British Legion has been a vital part of the network of support the charity has relied on to achieve this success.

Community connection and inclusion

Alongside reparations work, the charity provided direct support, reduced isolation and created opportunities for LGBT+ veterans to reconnect with one another and with the wider Armed Forces family. Activities ranged from one to one support and online engagement to regional gatherings, wellbeing programmes, Pride events, remembrance activities and national occasions.
A more structured volunteer programme, with clearer leadership and training arrangements, increased the charity's reach across the United Kingdom. Funding remained uneven across regions and nations; securing resources for places where services were less well supported remains a strategic priority. The trustees also identified stronger relationships with serving LGBTQ+ communities as an important part of the charity's wider purpose, and over the course of the year, the serving staff networks reached out to veterans, including them in a wide range of important and inclusive events. The trustees are keen to see this relationship continue to develop and improve.

Partnerships and organisational resilience

The charity worked with government, the Armed Forces, Veterans' Commissioners, NHS and welfare services, universities, service charities, LGBT+ organisations, corporate supporters and local partners. We are grateful to our funders and donors, without whom much of this work would have been impossible.
Investment in technology, communications and digital capability strengthened the foundations for continued national delivery of the charity's objectives. At the same time, rapid growth placed pressure on a relatively small organisation. The Board monitored workload, safeguarding, staff capacity, funding and operational risk through management information, committee scrutiny and executive reporting. New funding streams and donor activity were launched during the period; and developing more dependable unrestricted income remains a priority. New financial management systems were introduced, ensuring that the trustees and executive now have improved real-time access to financial information. The trustees also saw the Finance and Fundraising Committee mature into a strong part of the charity's governance structure, and it led on actions to establish new activity to address the charity's unrestricted funds and reserves.

Financial review

The accounts cover 15 months, from 1st January 2025 to 31st March 2026; the comparative figures are for the 12 months ended 31st December 2024 and therefore should not be read as directly comparable annual totals. Total income was £995,342, including £948,496 of restricted income for charitable activities, £42,279 in donations and legacies, and £4,567 of other income from charitable activities. Expenditure on charitable activities was £891,741. The resulting surplus across all funds was £103,601, bringing total funds at 31st March 2026 to £337,832.

Those headline figures require careful analysis. Restricted funds rose by £122,636 to £343,855, but they are available only for the purposes for which they were provided. Unrestricted income of £46,746 was exceeded by unrestricted expenditure of £109,346, producing a deficit of £62,600 for the period. General unrestricted funds stood at a deficit of £49,588 at the period end, compared with a positive balance of £13,012 at the start. The charity therefore ended the period without positive unrestricted reserves, even though total cash at bank and in hand was £343,479.

The increase in restricted funding enabled substantial delivery, including work on the memorial. Grant terms may permit an agreed share of support costs, but restricted funds do not provide an unrestricted financial cushion. The Board's priority is to rebuild unrestricted funds, align general expenditure with dependable income, and maintain close oversight of cash flow, grant commitments and delivery costs. The trustees have adopted a formal reserves policy and recruited a staff member with responsibility for fundraising.

Since the period end, Fighting With Pride has secured a £300,000 unrestricted grant from the Royal British Legion. This materially strengthens the charity's current financial position and its ability to rebuild reserves. It does not alter the position reported at 31 March 2026 and developing dependable unrestricted income remains a priority.

Looking ahead

The work of 2025 continued with urgency into the first quarter of 2026. With the Financial Recognition Scheme due to close in December 2026, Fighting With Pride remains committed to helping eligible veterans obtain the recognition available to them whilst continuing to advocate for those excluded from elements of the reparations process.
The Board's responsibility is to maximise the support available now and preserve the lessons of the historic ban for future generations. The next phase must secure a lasting legacy of support, remembrance, evidence, inclusion and learning for the LGBTQ+ Armed Forces community, on a financial footing that can sustain it.

Thanks

On behalf of the Board, I thank our staff, volunteers, ambassadors, supporters, funders and partners. Above all, I thank the veterans and serving personnel who have trusted Fighting With Pride with their experiences. Their courage continues to guide our work and challenge us to ensure that every member of our community is treated with dignity, belonging and equal opportunity.
The achievements of the charity during this reporting period were substantial, but the task is far from complete. Fighting With Pride enters its next phase with a clearer strategy and stronger governance; the Board's immediate financial task is to build on that progress ensuring the charity becomes a permanent and sustainable organisation.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF FIGHTING WITH PRIDE

Independent examiner's report to the trustees of Fighting with Pride
I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of Fighting With Pride (the Charity) for the 15-month period ended 31st March 2026.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the trustees of the Charity you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act').

I report in respect of my examination of the Charity's accounts carried out under section 145 of the Act and in carrying out my examination I have followed all applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent examiner's statement
Since your charity's gross income exceeded £250,000 your examiner must be a member of a listed body. I can confirm that I am qualified to undertake the examination because I am a registered member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, which is one of the listed bodies.

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the Charity as required by section 130 of the Act; or
2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. the accounts do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a true and fair view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

1. STATUTORY INFORMATION

Fighting with Pride is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) registered with the Charity Commission in England & Wales. The charity's registered number and registered office address can be found within the trustees report.

2. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation
Depreciation is provided at the following annual rates in order to write off each asset over its estimated useful life or, if held under a finance lease, over the lease term, whichever is the shorter.

Computer Equipment - 33% Straight Line

Basis of preparing the financial statements
The financial statements of the charity, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019)', Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' and the Charities Act 2011. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.
Fighting with Pride meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102.

Income
All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

Grants receivable, donations and income from charitable activities are accounted for when due. Income is deferred when it is received in advance of the period to which it relates.

Expenditure
Expenditure is recognised once there is a legal or constructive obligation to make a payment to a third party, it is probable that settlement will be required, and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is classified under charitable activities and their associated supports.

Taxation
The charity is exempt from corporation tax on its charitable activities.

Fund accounting
Unrestricted funds can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees.

Restricted funds can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the objects of the charity. Restrictions arise when specified by the donor or when funds are raised for particular restricted purposes.

Further explanation of the nature and purpose of each fund is included in the notes to the financial statements.

Debtors
Short term debtors are measured at transaction price, less any impairment.

Creditors
Short term creditors are measured at transaction price.
