Governance and management
The charity is operated under the rules of its constitution adopted 29/12/2020 and most recently amended 11/08/2022.

The methods adopted for the recruitment and appointment of new trustees are nomination and election at the annual meeting - online election so that people not attending the meeting can also vote. Details of the process are here: https://www.igpme.org/organization/international-committee/

International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education

Objectives and activities
The objects of the CIO are to advance the field of mathematics education for the public benefit by:

- promoting and stimulating research.
- organising regular educational conferences around the world.
- supporting regional workshops around the world in general, and in under-represented regions of the world in particular.
- collaborating with organisations with similar aims.
- facilitating cross-disciplinary discussion and the sharing of information and research with an international emphasis.
- helping scholars from different parts of the world establish collaborative networks to further our collective understanding of how to improve mathematics education in their respective countries.
- providing grants to help bring scholars from under-represented regions of the world to our annual meeting.
- disseminating our research for the benefit of improving mathematics education at the classroom, school, district, and national levels.
- disseminating our research for the benefit of improving students' experiences with mathematics education at the classroom, school, district, and national levels.
- disseminating our research for the benefit of improving the preparation of mathematics teachers at the university level around the world.
- providing access to our research publications to the public.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit
Annual conference with proceedings, occasional publications, regional conferences and workshops, online seminars to support Early Career Researchers, grants to attend annual conference or to run a regional conference to researchers in countries under represented in the PME active membership.

These activities benefit the public by improving the quality and access to high quality mathematics education research from around the world.

Public benefit statement
The Trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit, 'Charities and Public Benefit'.

Summary of the main achievements during the period
These are detailed in full in the annual report, but include an annual conference and several grants from the Skemp Fund and the Africa Fund to scholars from underrepresented countries to attend. Publication of the proceedings of this conference (open access).

Financial review
We remain in surplus and continue to implement our surplus plan but the longer term outlook is less favourable.

The charity's policy on reserves
Our reserves are calculated on the amount needed to cover the committed costs of the annual conference should it be cancelled at short notice. Last calculated for this reporting period and is based on an average of 3 years financial data from conference hosts.

Independent examiner's report to the trustees of International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education for the year ended 31 December 2025

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education (the charity) for the year ended 31 December 2025.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the trustees of the charity you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act').

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by section 130 of the Act; or
2. the accounts do not accord with those records.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
