CHARITY COMMISSION
FOR ENGLAND AND WALES

Trustees' Annual Report for the period

From 01/01/2025 to 31/12/2025

Charity name: Nurture Nepal

Charity registration number: 1195595

Objectives and Activities

	SORP ref.
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	Nurture Nepal (NN) exists to advance education for poor, deprived people anywhere in the world, particularly in Nepal, to complete higher education by providing them with financial support and sponsorships for board and lodging, mentoring, training, support and access to higher quality education facilities which they could not otherwise afford or gain access to. The relief of financial hardship anywhere in the world, particularly in Nepal, by working with local leaders to provide items and services to individuals in need, assisting in the provision of education, training, healthcare projects and all the necessary support required to enable individuals to generate a sustainable income and be self-sufficient.
Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	In 2025 we provided regular financial support to a Nepali NGO – Living Water Hostel (LWH), in Kathmandu, Nepal. Towards the end of the year the NGO was, for pragmatic reasons looking at becoming a Business. Operations would not change at all but substantial financial savings would be made and government red tape would be eliminated LWH provides accommodation, food and all that is needed for youth, aged 16-24, to stay there in order to pursue their chosen further education. Trustees kept in regular contact with the key workers running LWH. NN continued to support website promotion of the charitable work by funding a NN website domain and the site itself. NN is not yet supporting the relief of need purpose or starting any community development projects, other than support to LWH as outlined above.
Statement confirming	Para 1.18	From our charity's inception the trustees we whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit		have adhered to the guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission.

Achievements and Performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	SORP reference Para 1.20	Over the whole year – 2025 – NN has fulfilled its commitment to send regular sums of money contributing to LWH's delivery of its services to the beneficiaries. The hostel started the year with a total of 32 students: 8 males and 24 females, and ended the year with a total of 33 students: 6 males and 27 females During 2025: In terms of the academic year – ending in September 2025: Five new female students arrived at the Hostel (from a new district – Salyan) to commence the equivalent of A 'levels students. They fulfilled the criterion of being from lower castes and impoverished backgrounds. Four students left - one male having completed his A 'level equivalents in humanities and another, a female, graduating with bachelor's degree in education. Two left for personal reasons, without completing their studies. The average age of the 33 students at the end of 2025 was just under 21. Because one of the key people running the hostel was expecting and giving birth in 2025 and because some of the funding from sources other than Nurture Nepal had dried up there was less potential for the students to engage in recreational activities or extra-curricular courses. However, there were some activities in which the students participated, such as: a Women's conference; some outreach to poor people in Salyan District as well to villagers in the mountains. The conference will have helped empower the female students leading it as well as the female delegates. Some of the students volunteered in two youth conferences held in a village from which many of the students have come. All these activities helped develop leadership; public speaking; team building; project management; hospitality and administration skills.

Achievements against objectives set	Para 1.41	In terms of the NGO, which NN funds, there have been a number of outcomes. In terms of achieving a fuller compliment of trustees we managed to re-engage a Trustee who had taken a break, leaving us with a more comfortable four. We were still on the lookout for more Trustees, hoping for at least one more in the near future. The ideal would be seven.
Performance of fundraising activities against objectives set	Para 1.41	More money was raised in Fundraising initiatives this year than last year but not quite as much as had been hoped for. However, our base of regular donors has increased slightly and there have been a few substantial gifts from businesses and individuals. Because of this, we have been able to sustain a minimum level of monthly donations to the NGO in Nepal and accrue more in the account. With a healthy balance at the end of the year, we were thinking about increasing the minimum monthly donations from £500 to £750 per month.
Investment performance against objectives	Para 1.41

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	The fund balance of around £9.5K in the bank at the end of 2025 was very much healthier than the £2.5K we ended 2024 with. Regular loyal monthly donors, leaving virtually no shortfall each month, together with windfalls amounting to £7K (approximately half our annual income) and the claiming back Gift Aid in 2025 has all certainly helped ensure viability in the medium term.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	From the start, trustees have agreed that three months' worth of regular outgoings should be held in reserve to give any NGO/s, that we are supporting, time to access alternative funding should Nurture Nepal need to cease operations.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	This is currently held at £1500 as monthly outgoings are £500/m, although we now plan to increase the outgoings to perhaps £750 to plug some of the gaps left by previous benefactors of our NGO in Nepal pulling out.
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	N/A
Details of fund materially in deficit	Para 1.24
Explanation of any uncertainties about the charity continuing as a going concern	Para 1.23	As the monthly shortfall between income and outgoings has all but disappeared, if no further extra funds are received (either from one off donors or through fundraising) and our regular donors continue to support us at current levels, we should be able to carry on for 18 months or so, assuming we increase our regular donations to £750/month.

The charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising)	Para 1.47	The principal source of funding in 2025 was from three individuals who gave substantial amounts (totalling £7K) plus reasonable amounts of around £200 received from another and through fundraising. Approximately half of our income was from regular personal donations from loyal individuals. A Fundraiser raised £235. It is believed that launching a "Sponsor a student" programme may encourage more donors to come on board and aid retention. The hopes of a volunteer to help with setting this up were dashed but the idea continued to be on our agenda. Perhaps 2026 will see a breakthrough with the launch of a sponsorship programme?

Investment policy and objectives including any social investment policy adopted	Para 1.46	N/A
A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	Continued shortage of money being donated for the charitable aims. It is thought the “Cost of living crisis” may impact this. Potentially limited trustee capacity – in terms of time for the work involved in running the charity, including fundraising, health issues and the loss of trustees retiring at the end of trusteeship tenures. Therefore, the challenge to increase the number on the Board remains although having a team of four feels better than operating with the minimum as we did in 2024.

Structure, Governance and Management

Description of charity’s trusts:
Type of governing document (trust deed, royal charter)	Para 1.25	Nurture Nepal’s governing document is referred to as a Constitution
How is the charity constituted?	Para 1.25	Charitable Incorporated Organisation
Trustee selection methods including details of any constitutional provisions e.g. election to post or name of any person or body entitled to appoint one or more trustees.	Para 1.25	Recruitment has hitherto been through personal contacts of existing trustees. Each prospective candidate is given a selection of documents and links, including: NN’s vision, values and mission; social media info; duties of a trustee document. If they express a desire to be trustees the following are asked for: 1. Reason for wanting to be a trustee of NN 2. CV 3. Details of referees. Following this there is an interview by at least 2 current trustees. Trustees decide on appointment - pending references.

The charity’s organisational structure and any wider network with which the	Para 1.51	The charity is managed by the board of trustees, which, from February, comprised four trustees, one of whom had returned to charity works		the role and so already had experience with Nurture Nepal. There is a Management Team – incorporating leaders / key personnel directly responsible for any NGO/s that NN is in partnership with. Meetings have taken place in 2025 at a lower frequence than in 2024 but still occurring every 2-3 months. Much of the communication continues to take place 1:1 between trustees and NGO key workers, as and when necessary, with both parties providing feedback as required.
