Annual Summary of the Charity

Manchester Advanced Trauma Training (MATT) became a Charitable Incorporated Organisation on 10th February 2022. There are five Trustees of the Charity. The object of Manchester Advanced Trauma Training is the advancement of health for public benefit by educating healthcare professionals about major trauma.

Activity

The charity has not been active in 2025-6 whilst charity trustees have been busy with other activities. MATT is run by volunteers with full-time healthcare positions within the NHS. It is becoming increasingly challenging to deliver trauma courses. From a financial perspective from MATT has seen increasing costs, particularly of cadaveric specimens, and decreasing study budgets available to healthcare professionals as well as educational budgets available from industry. The volunteers who run the charity or under increasing pressure from their NHS practices and time to run courses is very sparse. The administrative load to running a suite of courses is very large.

Future plans

In January 2027, MATT will run a two-day cadaveric course focused on paediatric trauma at the Manchester Simulation and Surgical Skills Centre, University of Manchester. This will follow a similar format to the previous adult trauma course, FireFighting for Surgical Teams, run in previous years by MATT.
