A–Z COMMUNITIES INCLUSION CIO

Reporting period 16 April 2025 – 15 April 2026
Registered charity number 1201412

INCLUSION • OPPORTUNITY • WELLBEING • SUSTAINABILITY

Trustees' | Financial and activities targets 2025–2026 .

1 | At a glance

A–Z Communities Inclusion (AZCI) is a community-led Charitable Incorporated Organisation working to reduce exclusion and strengthen opportunities for people facing social, economic and cultural barriers. Its work particularly focuses on migrants, minority ethnic communities, unaccompanied young migrants, women and vulnerable families. Skills, wellbeing and meaningful participation are connected: learning builds confidence; confidence opens doors; and community relationships make progress more sustainable.

This report combines verified information from the 2024–2025 report with 2025–2026 programme priorities and planning targets. It does not present projected outcomes as achieved.

2024–2025 reported activity	2025–2026 planning target
187 young people trained in green energy and AI	200 young people
28 community workshops	30 workshops
27 structured training sessions	29 sessions
2 public forums	2 forums
3 community events	4 events (updated target)
28 wellbeing sessions	30 sessions
679 directly engaged beneficiaries	780 beneficiaries (updated target)

The 2025–2026 target of 780 beneficiaries and four events reflects the updated programme ambitions supplied for this report; earlier draft materials used approximately 727 beneficiaries and three events. All 2025–2026 counts require confirmation against attendance and monitoring records.

2 | Our purpose and public benefit

AZCI seeks to advance social inclusion, equality, education, employability, mental wellbeing and community cohesion. It works to remove barriers to opportunity through accessible training, culturally responsive support, collaboration and community participation. Its focus on green skills and ethical use of artificial intelligence connects inclusion with emerging employment opportunities and environmental sustainability.

The intended public benefit is practical and lasting: improved access to knowledge and services, greater confidence and wellbeing, stronger connections between communities, and better routes towards work, volunteering and independent participation. Trustees should confirm the exact objects against the CIO constitution and confirm that they have had regard to the Charity Commission's public benefit guidance.

3 | A message of purpose

Inclusion is more than an invitation to take part. It is the removal of the obstacles that prevent people from contributing their talent, experience and aspirations. AZCI's ambition is to create welcoming spaces where people can develop future-facing skills, speak openly about wellbeing and build relationships across cultures and generations. As demand for accessible support evolves, the charity aims to combine trusted local engagement with innovative approaches to learning and community resilience.

4 | Programmes and community activities

Green energy, AI and digital inclusion

Programmes are designed to introduce participants to renewable-energy concepts, artificial intelligence, digital literacy and the responsible use of technology. Activities aim to improve confidence with digital tools, widen awareness of emerging career pathways and help participants navigate an increasingly technology-enabled labour market.

Employability, enterprise and language support

Structured training and workshops focus on practical employability skills, communication, language support, entrepreneurship and personal development. The approach seeks to help participants strengthen applications, explore self-employment, engage with employers and develop the confidence needed to pursue education or work.

Mental health, wellbeing and social prescribing

Culturally responsive group activities and wellbeing sessions are intended to reduce isolation, encourage connection and promote access to appropriate support. The charity's approach draws on the Five Ways to Wellbeing: Connect, Be Active, Take Notice, Keep Learning and Give. Social-prescribing relationships remain an area for development.

Community voice, forums and cultural inclusion

Forums, public events and cultural activities create opportunities for dialogue on leadership, equality, mental health, migrant heritage and belonging. Such activities help build mutual understanding, strengthen community networks and support active civic participation.

5 | Achievements, impact and evidence

The previous reporting year (2024–2025) recorded 679 direct beneficiaries, 187 young people trained in green energy and AI, 28 workshops, 27 structured training sessions, two forums, three events and 28 wellbeing sessions. The prior report described improvements in skills, confidence, volunteering and collaboration, and included beneficiary testimonials. These are prior-year reported outcomes, yes independently verified 2025–2026 outcomes.

For 2025–2026, AZCI's updated ambitions are to engage approximately 780 beneficiaries, train 200 young people, hold 30 workshops, 29 structured training sessions, two public forums, four community events and 30 wellbeing sessions. Progress should be reported using attendance registers, anonymised beneficiary feedback, evaluation forms, partner records and appropriate outcome measures.

Meaningful impact is measured not only by participation but also by whether people gain skills, confidence, connections and improved access to opportunity. The trustees should insert validated 2025–2026 outcomes and illustrative case studies only where supported by records and consent.

6 | Volunteers and partnerships

The 2024–2025 annual report recorded more than 60 active volunteers. Volunteers contributed to outreach, workshops, community activities and the welcoming environment that makes participation possible. AZCI seeks to support volunteers through appropriate induction, safeguarding awareness, leadership development and recognition of their contribution.

Partnership development with local councils, academic institutions, technology specialists, green innovation hubs, voluntary organisations and funders is an important part of the charity's delivery model. The charity aims to use collaboration to share expertise, avoid duplication and reach communities that may otherwise remain underserved.

7 | Financial review and stewardship

The 2024–2025 Charity Commission CC16a receipts-and-payments schedule reported receipts of £151,000, payments of £146,100 and closing cash funds of £17,400. The accompanying narrative separately described expenditure of £150,000; the difference must be reconciled rather than silently treated as a single confirmed figure.

Financial measure	2024–2025 CC16a	2025–2026 scenario (+7%)
Total receipts	£151,000	£161,570
Total payments	£146,100	£156,327
Net receipts less payments	£4,900	£5,243
Opening cash funds	£12,500	£17,400 (prior-year closing balance)

Illustrative closing cash	£17,400	£22,643

The 2025–2026 amounts above are modelling figures, not actual receipts, payments or cash balances. The illustrative closing balance uses the prior-year closing balance of £17,400 as opening funds plus the projected net movement of £5,243. Actual accounts must be compiled from bank statements, cashbooks, restricted-fund records and supporting invoices.

Restricted and unrestricted funds

The 2024–2025 CC16a cash reconciliation showed closing balances of £7,297 unrestricted and £10,103 restricted. Its Section B statement instead showed £7,400 unrestricted and £10,000 restricted, while agreeing on total cash of £17,400. Trustees should resolve this £103 classification difference using the fund ledger before carrying fund balances forward. Restricted funds cannot automatically be treated as free reserves.

Reserves and financial resilience

AZCI aims to maintain an appropriate level of unrestricted free reserves to manage unexpected costs, funding delays and continuity of essential services. The trustees should formally confirm the reserves policy, the amount of free reserves at 15 April 2026, the target level and the rationale. Projected total cash of £22,643 is not equivalent to free reserves.

Funding and fundraising

The previous accounts recorded support from sources including lottery funding, Edward Holt Trust, postcode neighbourhood funding and other charitable and community partners. AZCI seeks to diversify income through competitive grant applications, collaborative partnerships and responsible stewardship. The 7% growth scenario is a planning assumption, not evidence that fundraising income increased by 7% in 2025–2026.

8 | Governance, safeguarding and risk

AZCI is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation governed by its constitution. Trustees are responsible for strategic direction, charitable purpose, public benefit, financial oversight, compliance and safeguarding. Trustee appointment procedures, induction arrangements and any conflicts of interest should be checked against the constitution and current governance records.

Principal risks for trustee review include dependence on external funding, inflation and operational costs, safeguarding of vulnerable participants, capacity of volunteers and staff, information security and changing community needs. Proposed responses include diversified fundraising, budget monitoring, appropriate safeguarding procedures, training, secure information handling and periodic risk review. This text should be checked against the charity's actual risk register and policies.

AZCI is not a grant-making charity: it primarily raises and applies funds to its own charitable programmes. No formal financial investment or programme-related social investment policy is evidenced in the supplied records. Any such policy or activity should only be described as adopted if approved and documented by trustees.

9 | Priorities for the year ahead

- Extend accessible green-energy, digital and ethical-AI skills programmes with practical progression routes.
- Strengthen culturally responsive mental-health activities and explore appropriate social-prescribing connections.
- Develop mentoring, women-led innovation and community enterprise opportunities.
- Improve impact measurement, attendance tracking, safeguarding oversight and volunteer development.
- Build diversified funding partnerships and strengthen unrestricted financial resilience.
- Explore outreach approaches that reach underserved groups without excluding people with limited digital access.
