Revive Support Hub- 2025 Annual Review

This year saw a decline in parents using the support hub..

At Revive we have a resource library where parents can borrow items to try out with their children. Having a child with additional needs often means using resources recommended by therapists etc but often are very expensive. Here, parents can try out the items to see how effective they are before spending a lot of money on purchasing them. We also are able to buy items that parents suggest.

Free ‘calm down boxes’ are given to every parent who would like them. These contain items that children can use to help regulate their emotions. We continue to apply for funding to be able to continue this. .

We have worked hard to bring a community of SEN parents together to support one another. Unfortunately we saw a decline in the number of parents using the hub. There have been many more support groups opening in the area.

We now aim to form closer relationships with schools and try to grow the charity working in partnership wherever possible.

This has been a successful year but unfortunately all trustees feel the time is right to close the hubs. Personal circumstances have influenced this decision.
