Trustees' Report
From 1 January to 31 December 2025

The Trustees present their report and accounts for EduWell Charity for the year ended 31 December 2025.

The accounts have been prepared by the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the accounts and comply with the charity's constitution, the Charities Act 2011, and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts by the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

Structure, Governance and Management

EduWell Charity is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO), dedicated to the advancement of education. Having served the community for over 8 years, the charity operates under its "Education Divisions" framework, underpinned by an integrated administrative body.

The day-to-day management and execution of projects are overseen by a dedicated executive unit associated with the Selly Oak Arabic School (SOAS), which draws upon active membership within the Birmingham community. This compact yet dynamic SOAS team implements transformative projects through effective administration, skilled coordination, and a commitment to robust methodologies.

Trustees are appointed by the charity's constitution. New trustees are inducted into the workings of the charity, including their legal obligations, the content of the governing document, and recent financial performance.

Objectives and Activities

The primary objective of EduWell Charity is to advance education for the public benefit and to support the wellbeing and development of children, young people, women and families within the community.

We believe that access to education, personal development and wellbeing opportunities can play an important role in enabling individuals to develop their skills, confidence and potential. Through our activities, we seek to encourage creativity, strengthen practical and life skills, raise awareness of mental health and wellbeing, promote inclusion, and create opportunities for individuals and families to participate positively in their communities.

Throughout the year, EduWell Charity delivered a range of educational, cultural, developmental and community-based activities. These included both ongoing programmes and seasonal initiatives, made possible through the dedication of our trustees, staff and volunteers and the generous support of members of the Birmingham community.

Achievements and Performance: Review of Activities for the Year Ended 31 December 2025

The Trustees are pleased to report a year of significant activity and community engagement. During 2025, EduWell Charity continued to develop programmes designed to benefit children, young people, parents and families, while promoting education, inclusion, creativity and community cohesion.

Ramadan Educational and Family Activities – March 2025

During Ramadan, EduWell Charity organised a range of educational and creative activities designed to engage children and their families.

A dedicated Ramadan workshop was held on 13 March 2025, encouraging parents and children to participate together in creative and educational activities connected with the month of Ramadan.

The involvement of parents was particularly valuable, providing families with an opportunity to learn, create and spend meaningful time together. Feedback from participating families was positive and demonstrated the value of providing activities in which parents and children can participate jointly.

Eid al-Fitr Community Celebration – 5 April 2025

EduWell Charity organised a vibrant Eid al-Fitr community celebration, which was open to the wider community and free of admission.

Families and children came together to enjoy an afternoon of community activities, including food, games, face painting, children's entertainment, a bouncy castle and virtual reality experiences and animal show.

The event provided an opportunity for families from different backgrounds to meet, socialise and celebrate together in a welcoming environment. It also supported the charity's wider aim of encouraging community participation and strengthening relationships between families.

Eid al-Adha Community Activities – June 2025

The occasion of Eid al-Adha provided another opportunity to bring members of the community together.

Activities surrounding the celebration encouraged fellowship, reflection and positive interaction between families and helped strengthen relationships within the community.

Workshops Supporting Children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities

During the year, EduWell Charity placed increased emphasis on inclusion and awareness of the needs of children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND).

Workshops and awareness activities were organised to provide families with information and practical guidance relating to the different needs of children and the importance of creating supportive and inclusive environments.

These initiatives also encouraged greater understanding within the community and provided opportunities for parents to discuss challenges, share experiences and learn about approaches that may help children participate more confidently in educational and community settings.

Parenting Workshops: Understanding Adolescence and Supporting Teenagers

Recognising the challenges that can arise during adolescence, Eduwell Charity organised parent awareness workshops focusing on adolescence and effective ways of supporting teenagers.

The workshops explored the physical, emotional and social changes associated with adolescence and encouraged parents to develop positive communication and stronger relationships with their children.

Parents were provided with practical guidance on listening, communication, boundaries and understanding the changing needs of young people. These sessions also created a valuable space for parents to discuss common concerns and exchange experiences in a supportive environment.

Children's Life-Saving and First Aid Training

As part of our commitment to children's safety and practical education, EduWell Charity organised a life-saving and first aid training programme for children, delivered with the support and supervision of volunteer medical professionals.

The programme introduced children to age-appropriate principles of responding to emergencies, seeking appropriate help and understanding basic first-aid and life-saving awareness.

The involvement of volunteer doctors and healthcare professionals provided children with an engaging educational experience while helping to build confidence and awareness of personal and community safety.

Summer Programme for Children and Teenagers

During the summer holiday period, EduWell Charity delivered an extensive Summer Skills and Creativity Programme for children and teenagers.

The programme was designed to provide young people with constructive, enjoyable and educational opportunities during the school holidays while introducing them to a diverse range of practical, creative and digital skills.

Activities included:

- Woodworking workshops, introducing participants to practical making and basic craft skills.
- Sewing workshops, allowing children and young people to develop practical textile and design skills.
- Photography workshops, introducing participants to photography, visual storytelling and creative composition.
- Artificial Intelligence and Digital Content Creation workshops, providing an age-appropriate introduction to using AI and digital tools for creativity, content creation and design.
- Graphic and digital design activities, encouraging participants to develop creative ideas using modern technology.
- Pottery workshops, giving participants opportunities to explore traditional craft techniques and create their own pieces.
- Crochet workshops, introducing young people to a practical and creative textile craft.
- Arts and crafts workshops, offering a variety of hands-on creative activities and opportunities for individual expression.

The summer programme was particularly valuable in bringing together traditional practical skills and modern digital skills. Children and teenagers were encouraged to explore new interests, develop confidence, work collaboratively and discover skills that they may wish to develop further.

The programme also provided a positive and structured environment for young people during the school holidays.

Community Cultural Day – 13 December 2025

EduWell Charity concluded the year with a vibrant Community Cultural Day, celebrating the diversity of Birmingham and the different cultures represented within our community.

Children and families attended wearing traditional clothing representing a variety of countries and cultures. Families generously contributed a wide selection of traditional foods, allowing participants to learn about different cuisines and cultural traditions.

Children also contributed to the event by preparing presentations and videos introducing different countries, traditions and aspects of cultural heritage.

The programme included cultural presentations, national flags and other activities designed to encourage children and families to learn about and appreciate different cultures.

The event created an atmosphere of celebration, interaction and mutual respect and provided an important opportunity to promote community cohesion, cultural awareness and understanding.

Community Participation and Volunteering

The achievements of EduWell Charity during 2025 would not have been possible without the contribution of our dedicated volunteers, parents, professionals and community supporters.

Volunteer professionals contributed their knowledge and expertise to several activities, while parents supported events and participated actively alongside their children.

This community-led approach enables the charity to provide a broader range of educational opportunities while strengthening relationships between families, volunteers and the wider community.

Public Benefit Statement

The Trustees confirm that, in carrying out their duties and when reviewing the Charity's aims, objectives and activities, they have had due regard to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit, in accordance with Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011.

Throughout the year ended 31 December 2025, EduWell Charity continued to provide clear public benefit through the advancement of education and the delivery of educational, developmental, cultural and community-based activities.

The Charity's programmes have benefited children, young people, parents, women and families within the wider community. Activities have included educational and skills-based workshops, programmes supporting children and young people, parental awareness sessions, activities promoting inclusion and wellbeing, life-saving and first-aid awareness, creative and vocational workshops, and cultural and community events.

The Trustees believe that these activities contribute positively to education, personal development, creativity, inclusion, family engagement and community cohesion, while providing opportunities for participants to develop practical skills, confidence and knowledge.

Where appropriate, activities are designed to be accessible to the wider community, and the Trustees continue to consider accessibility and public benefit when planning and reviewing the Charity's programmes.

Risk Management

The Trustees are responsible for identifying and reviewing the principal risks to which the Charity may be exposed and for ensuring that appropriate systems and controls are in place to manage those risks.

During the year, the Trustees continued to consider the strategic, financial, operational and safeguarding risks associated with the Charity's activities.

Appropriate procedures and controls are maintained and reviewed to provide reasonable assurance against fraud, financial error, misuse of charitable funds and other significant operational risks.

Particular consideration is given to safeguarding children and young people participating in the Charity's activities, financial management, health and safety, appropriate supervision of activities, data protection and the effective use of the Charity's resources.

The Trustees recognise that risk management is an ongoing process and will continue to review and strengthen the Charity's policies, procedures and internal controls as its activities develop.

Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom accounting requirements.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose, with reasonable accuracy at any time, the financial position of the Charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, applicable Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations and the provisions of the Charity's governing document.

The Trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Charity and for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud, financial irregularities and other misuse of charitable resources.

In fulfilling these responsibilities, the Trustees seek to ensure that appropriate financial controls, governance arrangements and record-keeping procedures are maintained.

Where financial or other information relating to the Charity is published electronically, the Trustees are responsible for taking reasonable steps to maintain the integrity of that information. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Basis of independent examiner's report financial year 31-12-2025

I have examined your charity accounts as under section 65 of the Charities Act and my examination was carried out in accordance with the general Direction given by Charity Commission.

My examination included review of the accounting records kept by charity and comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also included consideration of unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanation from you as charity trustees concerning any such matters.

My role to state whether any material matters have come to my attention giving me cause to believe:

1. That accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 63 of the Charities Act.
2. That the accounts do not accord with those accounting records.
3. That the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirement of the Charities Act
4. That there is further information needed for a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination and have no concerns in respect of matters (1) to (4) listed above and, in connection with following the Directions of the Charity Commission, I have found no matters that require drawing to your attention.

Thanks

Yours Sincerely

Mohamed Omer MSC, FCCA, CPA, PIIA
