Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	The charity maintained a healthy cash flow throughout the year, with sufficient reserves to meet short-term obligations. The trustees consider the financial position to be stable, with adequate resources to continue operations and deliver planned activities in the coming year. The charity's reserves policy is to maintain a minimum of six months' worth of the church's operating expenses. At year-end, reserves stood at £7,000 which meets this target. No significant liabilities or financial risks were identified, and the trustees are confident in the charity's ability to meet its commitments and expand its services where needed.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	We hold reserves to meet present and future financial obligations.
