Moreton-in-Marsh and District Agricultural and Horse Show Society

Report of the council

The council submits its annual report, together with the accounts for the year ended 31 October 2023.

Principal activities

The principal activity of the company is to hold an annual agricultural and horse show and a range of crop, livestock and craft on-farm competitions.

Governance

The Society was established by Memorandum and Articles of Association signed on 28 March 1989 and incorporated on 21 June 1989, under which the longest serving one-third of the members of council retire each year. Vacancies are filled by election by the members at the Annual General Meeting.

Objects

The objects for which the Society is established are:-

1. To promote the improvement in the breeding of livestock, hunters and heavy horses.
2. To improve the standards of farming and farm craft for farmers residing within an area fixed by the society.

The holding of an Annual Show is specifically authorised in the Memorandum of Association.

Brief Statement of Public Benefit

Council considers that the objects set out above are fulfilled by the holding of the Annual Show and the on-farm competitions. The Show has built up an enviable reputation for the quality of its livestock and horses, hosting the National Shows of Poll Hereford Cattle and of Cotswold Sheep and a very full range of qualifying classes for the Horse of the Year Show as well as competitions for numerous other breeds and classifications. The effect is to encourage the very best in breeding and husbandry, especially when the cumulative result of this and other events is considered. On-farm competitions continue to attract significant entries and are adapted each year to current needs which are, however, frequently changed by market and fiscal effects.

Results for the year, business review and future developments

The 2023 show was a huge success. The weather was perfect, slightly cooler in the morning and turning brighter in the afternoon, perfect conditions for a Show. Thousands of people turned out to attend this celebration of British agriculture and rural life in the heart of the Cotswolds.

Grand Arena highlights included the six bar show jumping challenge, parade of heavy horses, Shetland Pony Grand National and one of the best parades of livestock in the country. In the Attractions Arena crowds enjoyed watching The BMX Show, Otter and Blood Hounds and parade of Vintage Tractors and Series 2 Land Rovers. The Spitfire flypast was another highlight in the day's events, passing three times, we got a great view of this iconic plane.

The gate revenue was up by 9.5% on last year, with the online ticketing system continuing to work extremely well. Advance tickets were sold online, also four local outlets kindly assisted by selling advance tickets.

Results for the year, business review and future developments (continued)

The Livestock area was busy all day, the highlight was a very well supported Livestock Parade in the Grand Arena in the afternoon. Entries were strong in all sections and the quality of competition was to an exceptionally high standard. New for 2023 was the Sheep Shearing Competition which proved to be a huge draw for the public and looks to be getting bigger next year. The show encourages the promotion of rural skills and to educate the public of where their food comes from.

The Horse section entries were down on previous years, which was reflected across the showing world, but the quality was exceptionally high and there were good numbers for each class. The Show held a selection of HOYS qualifiers and hosted qualifiers for LIHS and RIHS. The British Show Jumping affiliated competitions and the new Eventer Challenge classes were well supported. The ground conditions and summer weather were such that watering was not required. The Heavy Horse Display and Farriery Competition attracted large crowds all day.

The Home and Garden Marquee was very busy all day with local people getting involved in entering the many and diverse competitions in a much-loved section of the Show. The marquee was as usual a sensory delight; beautiful floral displays and some of the finest vegetables and summer blooms were on display.

There were just over 300 trade stands exhibiting at the Show selling a broad range of products and services. Trade stand numbers were slightly above the numbers achieved in the previous year, but not yet to pre-pandemic levels. A growing number of businesses from the Cotswolds are exhibiting at the event, this is great as the Show is strengthening its position as a location to promote local enterprise and innovation.

Moreton Show continues to be one of the finest one-day agricultural shows in the UK, the Show has built a reputation for being a high-quality event showcasing the very best of farming and associated industries in the Cotswolds. The Show is built on strong charitable principles, and for over 70 years has endeavoured to educate visitors about farming and provide a platform for farmers to compete their livestock and horses.

Pleasingly, increases in trade stands, sponsors, livestock entries and membership all indicate that Moreton Show is relevant and gaining strong support from the community for which it serves. 2023 has been defined by rising costs, on average costs rose by nearly 10%, luckily income has managed to keep pace. This is a testament to the Show and puts the event in a positive position heading into 2024.

The Farmtastic area was a huge success, creating an environment for visitors of all ages to learn more about farming, rural crafts, and country living. The inclusion of the Sheep Show was a big hit and attracted huge audiences. Education is very important, and much effort was made to educate the visiting public about the various displays, demonstrations, and competitions.

Sponsorship income is very important to the Society and in 2023 raised a total of £92,331 (2022 £82,789) which was an amazing feat in the current climate and an increase of an amazing 11.5% on the prior year.

Catering commission has increased to £40,087 (2022: £36,593) our main caterers had queues most of the day, as did the ice cream vans, bars and once again the local catering proved extremely popular.

The showground ran extremely well without any major incidents. Existing and new contractors performed well working successfully and proactively with the showground team to produce the Show. All amendments to the Show layout and the locations for the new features worked well. The updated traffic management also helped to reduce congestion and ease the ingress and egress from the showground. Changes to the pedestrian route from Moreton Town also worked well and greatly reduced the number of people crossing live traffic.

The feedback from the Show has been extremely positive, it was a great team effort and one everyone involved can be proud of.

Looking forward to 2024, rising prices and inflation are cementing the need for careful budgeting. This has initiated a review of all systems and expenses to ensure a cost effective and efficient operation moving forward. Additionally, a need to keep the event dynamic and evolving to meet local trends and expectations is essential. The addition of new or enhanced features are being considered, whilst the accessibility of the event for people with physical or mental impediments to all is also being reviewed and considered.

There was an operating profit of £56,874 (2022: £51,964).

Council members and their interests in the company

The council members who served in the year are listed below:

Ms R Allen	Miss SA Harrison	SJ Parkes
J Coker	T Hayman-Joyce	M Green
S Randall	Prof B Hooker	A Loker
Mrs D Dewbery	TR Limbrick	A Hett
T Gardner	E Hicks	Mrs R Smith
D Gauld	Mrs S Eve	S Bing
A Godwin	S Mace

Most members of council listed served on one or more sub-committees of the council during the year. The company is limited by guarantee and therefore has no share capital.

Recruitment of council members

Council members are usually recruited from amongst the co-opted members of the section committees and, thus, already have a working knowledge of the society's methods and activities. Newly elected members receive an induction pack and are informally mentored by the chairman of the committee on which they were previously serving.

Reserves policy

Council considers it prudent to maintain sufficient reserves to enable a completely cancelled show and on-farm judging season, coupled with another poorly performing season, to be withstood without rendering the society insolvent or unable to fund a restart of activities. The interest on reserves is applied towards maintaining them at the required level, having regard to inflation. This policy is reviewed each year when considering the draft annual accounts.

Moreton-in-Marsh and District Agricultural and Horse Show Society

Risk management

Council actively reviews the major risks which the society faces on a regular basis and believes that maintaining reserves at the levels stated above will provide sufficient resources in the event of adverse conditions. Council has also examined other operational and business risks which the society faces and confirm that they have established systems to mitigate the significant risks.

Investment policy

The society aims to manage its affairs, particularly the holding of the annual show, so that its expenditure is met by income received, the majority of the income being received immediately before or at the show and the majority of expenditure becoming due at or immediately after the show. Administration costs are incurred throughout the year and are met from subscriptions and other advance income, or from working capital. Surpluses arising beyond that required for immediate purposes are invested in short term interest bearing accounts. The society seeks to achieve a reasonable rate of return on its investments, to at least meet the effects of inflation on its reserves, without incurring the high risks associated with higher yield short term deposits. It is not considered appropriate to appoint investment fund managers. The policy is reviewed at least annually.

Council's responsibilities

Company Law and Charity Regulations require the council to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing those financial statements council is required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The council is responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and with the Statement of Recommended Practice for Charities. Council is also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice – Accounting and Reporting by Charities and in accordance with the special provisions of Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies.

In connection with our report, no matter has come to our attention:
