DECEMBER 2022

1. This charity is involved exclusively in the field of Christian publishing and its main current and ongoing activities relate to:
  - a) the production bi-monthly of a magazine to be circulated as widely as possible free of charge with the intention that it shall educate its readers in the basics of Christianity; instruct in the principles of Holy Scripture; give to its readers a knowledge of God and His ways; encourage godly, righteous and sober living; comfort and help the lonely, isolated and aged; and sustain those who seek to maintain godliness in a time of lawlessness and moral decline; and
  - b) the production of books and/or booklets to explore in more detail specific doctrines or subjects in Holy Scripture, again to be distributed as widely as possible free of charge.
2. During 2022 circulation of each issue of the magazine was almost 9,000 copies. One of our earlier books, “The Glory of the Last Words”, was translated into Portuguese with 1,800 copies printed in Brazil mainly for distribution there.
3. The charity complies with the General Data Protection Regulation requirements, which came into force during 2018. 4. The trustees at all times have maintained high standards of personal and financial probity and have given due regard to the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland’s public benefit requirement statutory guidance. They also reconsider the resilience of the charity in the event of the resignation or incapacity of any trustee and maintain a current “who does what; and when and how” living document to protect against any loss of corporate memory. This document is reviewed by the trustees annually, or more frequently as required.
