Vision

Active Listening believes everyone in the midst of crisis should have someone they can talk to – in confidence, without judgement and the freedom to determine their next step.

What do we do?

Active Listening stands in the gap providing hope.

Active Listening receives referrals from the emergency services for adults in the midst of crisis for whom we offer face-to-face confidential listening and signposting.

How it works

1. Person in midst of crisis – Emergency services assess the situation
 - If criteria are met emergency services refer to Active Listening
2. Active Listening assess the referral for suitability
 - Accepted referral is directed to a local Team Coordinator
3. Team Coordinator assesses the referral and assigns two team members
 - Team Members make contact with person in midst of crisis

We are committed to the following values:

- Local—a Northern Ireland based charity working in partnership with PSNI
- Confidential—we provide a confidential listening and signposting service to vulnerable adults referred by PSNI
- Available to all—we will meet anyone from the local community regardless of gender, race, creed or culture
- Supportive—to support people struggling with domestic violence, drug and alcohol abuse, suicide or risk of suicide, debt, self-harm, bereavement and depression.
- Offered through a Christian ethos—our volunteers are all committed members of the local community of Christian faith.

Chairman's Introduction

Welcome to our 2023/24 Annual Report

In Northern Ireland many people who are in the midst of crisis need to talk to someone about their own personal situation. Active Listening has evolved from the belief that such people deserve to have someone to talk to in confidence, without judgement, yet retaining the freedom to resolve their own issues.

During 2023/24 the members of the Board of Trustees continued to exercise their key responsibilities:

- Spiritually – As a faith-based organisation it was necessary that the backbone of the charity's work was underpinned with a spiritual dimension
- Strategically – The Board developed the charity's strategy in liaison with the Chief Executive Officer
- Administratively – All members exercised their oversight and legal responsibilities in close cooperation with the Chief Executive Officer

During the past year the work of Active Listening was greatly blessed by its Christian volunteers who have a heart and compassion for people and wish to share God's love to everyone through their service in this domain. Contact with those referred to the charity was largely made through video and telephone calls.

Financially it is always challenging operating on a shoestring budget and having limited financial support and stability. However, we are grateful we have been able to maintain our current levels of support during the period of this Annual Report.

As Chair and on behalf of the Board I would like to thank our listening and signposting teams across Northern Ireland for the key role they each play in providing support for those in need.

Much appreciation needs to be extended to our Chief Executive Officer for his support, commitment and energy to the overall leadership of Active Listening, to the members of the Management Team for their role in managing the charity's work and to Ruth who is the first point of contact in the office for all referrals. Finally I wish to convey my sincere thanks to all trustees on the Board for their prayers, support and dedication throughout the past year in furthering the work of Active Listening.

Raymond Ross
Chair of the Board of Trustees

Chief Executive Officer's Statement

Throughout 2023/24, there were many significant Northern Ireland news stories, including the long-awaited return of the Northern Ireland Executive to Stormont. This will hopefully lead to improved governance and leadership across Northern Ireland.

Another significant news story was the PSNI data breach. This led to the temporary suspension of information sharing with a considerable number of organisations whilst they reviewed their information-sharing arrangements. PSNI drafted new arrangements following a period of consultation internally and with Active Listening. I am grateful to the Officers who helped me navigate this challenge and bring the referral system back online in a more robust and sustainable position. Their support and encouragement was invaluable.

Despite the challenge faced by the temporary suspension of the referral system, our Volunteers have re-engaged and are committed to helping people in the midst of crisis, regardless of their race or beliefs or their role as victims or perpetrators. They have chosen to stand in the gap, offering a compassionate, confidential and discreet Christian response to everyone. It is my hope that others will step up from the sidelines and be part of the solution.

Our emergency services are continuing to face huge pressures, primarily from public demand and a lack of sustainable funding, with PSNI facing mental health incidents at an average rate of 107 per day. They responded to over 37,000 emergency incidents and over 415,000 non-emergency incidents during this period.

Thank you to the PSNI Officers and Staff who make the referrals as they engage with the public. Many of the situations they encounter are not policing matters, however they respond with the same degree of professionalism. Active Listening's role is to help reduce that demand.

I also want to pass on my thanks to:

- Our Volunteers across Northern Ireland as they give their time to bring hope to those in need by listening and signposting. I am blessed by the amazing people I work with.
- The Board of Trustees, who continue to provide oversight and governance and exercise a genuine interest and care in my health and well-being and that of my Volunteers.
- Finally to Ruth Millar, my PA, who has, for many years, provided unwavering support to me and as a constant source of help and support to Volunteers across Active Listening.

It's time for every person in Northern Ireland to accept a personal responsibility in supporting our public services. Don't stand on the side-lines, be part of the solution.

Sam Wilson
Chief Executive Officer

Overview of Active Listening

Active Listening operates throughout Northern Ireland with a central management team based in Ballymena and volunteer listening teams in nine locations— six districts — Antrim and Newtownabbey, Ards and North Down, Causeway Coast and Glens, Mid and East Antrim, Mid Ulster and Omagh and Fermanagh.

Active Listening provides a confidential and non-judgmental listening and signposting service to vulnerable adults in Northern Ireland. Our service is provided by 100 volunteers drawn from local churches working with a committed Christian faith.

We meet vulnerable adults who are struggling with domestic violence, drug and alcohol abuse, suicide or risk of suicide, debt, self-harm, bereavement and depression to name but a few.

Our purpose is to:

- provide relief to persons (including relevant family and friends) in Northern Ireland who are in conditions of emotional distress, hardship, ill-health, facing relationship difficulties or family problems through the provision of a professional, Christian, caring and confidential, reflective, listening and counselling service for the purpose of relieving such persons.
- the direct benefits include helping these persons move towards positive change and growth. These aims are reflected in our vision to make a positive impact in the lives of adults in crisis.

The Trustees confirm that they have had due regard to the Charity Commission of Northern Ireland's guidance on public benefit in reviewing the charity's aims and objectives, in planning future activities and in compiling this report.

Trustees' Annual Report

The Trustees, who are also the directors under company law, present their annual report and financial accounts for the year ended 30 April 2024. This report has been prepared in accordance with the provisions applicable to companies entitled to the small companies exemption.

Structure, Governance and Management

Structure

Active Listening is a charitable company limited by guarantee. It was incorporated in 2010, having been founded by (the late) Mike Elwood in 2007.

Active Listening's Office and Leadership Team is based in Ballymena. The Management Team are based throughout Northern Ireland and provide support to the Active Listening Teams. The Leadership team is responsible to the Board of Trustees.

Active Listening volunteer teams are based in six districts — Antrim and Newtownabbey, Ards and North Down, Causeway Coast and Glens, Mid and East Antrim, Mid Ulster and Omagh and Fermanagh. They are managed by a Team Coordinator who reports to the Management Team.

Governance

Active Listening is governed by a Memorandum and Articles of Association which were substantially revised in 2014 when the charity was applying for registration with the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland. The governing body is the Board of Trustees, which currently has four members, who are also the Directors of the Company.

The Board is advised by the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) who delivers operational leadership of Active Listening. A Management Team manages our Volunteers carrying out activities including recruitment, induction and training, continuing development and PR activities. Board members can attend operational meetings at their discretion. The Board meets formally a minimum of four times a year.

Our CEO and Management Team meet monthly. The CEO advises and guides the Board of Trustees on key policy issues and acts as a channel of communication between the Board and all operational Volunteers.

Although the Trustees are responsible for directing the affairs of the charity, they have delegated the operational activity to the Chief Executive Officer and his team. However significant matters are specifically reserved for the Board's decision and cannot be delegated. These include the strategic direction of the charity, the approval of key policies, the approval of operational plans (including significant contractual spend), the approval of budgets and the appointment of the Chief Executive Officer.

Subject to the above, the CEO can approve routine contracts, authorise expenditure and recruit volunteers in a way consistent with the charity's strategic direction and in line with annual budgets approved by the Board.

Appointment of Trustees

An individual may be appointed as a Trustee as long as a majority of the board vote in favour of appointment. Appointments are confirmed annually at the AGM.

Induction of Trustees

Following appointment, each Trustee undertakes an induction programme which includes a guide to the vision, values of the charity, the charity's governing documents and the policies of the charity. New Trustees are also encouraged to attend Volunteer and Coordinator events.

New Trustees are encouraged to attend Volunteer and Coordinator training days, meet with volunteers at their monthly team meetings and attend the monthly Management Team Meetings.

Risk Management

The charity operates an annual planning and budget process approved by the Board of Trustees. As an integral part of this process, there is an assessment of key risks facing the Charity and how these risks can be mitigated.

Going Concern

The activities of the charity are dependent on the ongoing financial support of its donors. After reviewing the charities' cash flows for the 2023/24 period, the trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the period of twelve months from the accounting date of these financial statements. The charity has therefore continued to adopt the going concern basis in preparing its financial statements.

Reserves Policy

In setting the reserves policy the Board of Trustees considers the need to provide against any future income shortfall, fulfil our working capital requirements and allow funds to be available to support team growth and training needs. This has to be balanced against the need to spend reserves now to enable us to provide our listening and signposting services. The Trustees have retained sufficient reserves to allow the charity to operate for the coming year.

Principal Risks and Uncertainties

The Board of Trustees considers the principal risks and uncertainties for the charity together with the mitigating actions being taken to manage those risks. They are as follows:

Principal risk and uncertainties	Mitigating action
Authorisation to receive referrals— Active Listening works in partnership with PSNI and receives referrals directly from them	Developing new procedures and streamlining current procedures and policies to ensure this process works effectively for both organisations.
Not being able to meet the key needs of all our stakeholders including Volunteers, our funders and our partners.	Active Listening is fundamentally about making a positive impact on vulnerable adults in crisis. However we have to ensure that volunteers, funders and PSNI needs are satisfied too, to ensure the survival of the charity. Communication is key to ensuring all stakeholders understand why decisions have been made.
The inability to maintain financial stability whilst operating in a highly competitive environment to secure funding.	The fundraising strategy is focussed on ensuring that the charity is not reliant on one single source of funding to ensure its financial sustainability. Expenditure plans are developed in advance and growth is controlled to ensure it is financially sustainable.
Retention and recruitment of volunteer listeners	Look to develop new avenues of recruitment and raise the awareness of the work that Active Listening does. At times it may become necessary to halt referrals to protect our volunteers from taking on more than they can safely manage.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees Annual Report including the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company and charity law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources. In preparing those financial statements the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate and proper accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008, Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015 and with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities. The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the charity's website. Legislation in the UK governing the preparation and dissemination of the financial statements and other information included in annual reports may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions. The Trustees confirm that, so far as each Trustee is aware, there is no relevant information of which the charity's independent examiner is unaware, and each Trustee has taken all the steps that he/she ought to have taken as a Trustee in order to make himself/herself aware of any relevant review information and to establish that the charity's independent examiner is aware of that information.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Members and Trustees of Active Listening

I report on the accounts of the company for the year ended 30 April 2024, which are set out on pages 13 to 19.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

As the Charities trustees (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006. Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under company law, and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 65 of the Charities Act
- follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act
- State whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

I have examined your charity accounts as required under section 65 of Charities Act and my examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland under section 65(9)(b) of the Charities Act. The examination included a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also included consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as charity trustees concerning any such matters.

My role is to state whether any material matters have come to my attention giving me cause to believe:

1. That accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006
2. That the accounts do not accord with those accounting records
3. That the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Charities Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland
4. That there is further information needed for a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination and have no concerns in respect of the matters (1) to (4) listed above and, in connection with following the Directions of the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland; I have found no matters that require drawing to your attention.

Notes to the Accounts

1. Accounting policies

a) Basis of preparation

The accounts have been prepared on a going concern basis under the historical cost convention. The financial statements are prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102) (Charities SORP (FRS102)), issued 1 January 2015, the Companies Act 2006, the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008, the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015 and applicable accounting standards.

b) Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are funds that are available at the discretion of the trustees in furtherance of the objectives of the charity and have not been designated for other purposes. Restricted funds are funds which are to be used in accordance with specific restrictions imposed by donors or which have been raised by the charity for specific purposes.

c) Income

All income is included in the Statement of Financial Activities when the charity is legally entitled to the income, there is reasonable certainty of receipt and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy. The following specific policies apply to categories of income:

- i) Donations—accounted for when received.
- ii) Grants—where income from a grant is received in advance, its recognition is deferred and included in creditors. Where entitlement occurs before income is received, the income is accrued. Capital grants are accounted for as income as soon as they are received.

d) Expenditure

All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to that category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings, they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with use of resources. Support costs have been allocated on the basis of spend on main activities (listening, team set-up and volunteer training) and governance activities.

The following specific policies apply to categories of expenditure:

- i) Governance costs—are the costs associated with the governance arrangements of the charity which relate to the general running of the charity as distinguished from those costs associated with charitable activity. Included within this category are costs associated with the strategic management of the charity's activities.
- ii) Support Costs—comprise the costs incurred delivering the charity service and infrastructure functions.
- iii) Depreciation—is calculated on a straight line basis to write off the cost of tangible fixed assets

e) Taxation

Active Listening is a registered charity and is therefore potentially exempt from taxation of its income and gains to the extent they fall within Part 11 of the Corporation Tax Act 2010 and section 256 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Acts 1992. No tax charge has arisen in the year.
