

Pepper Johns Memorial has converted a dilapidated building into a community facility comprised of three meeting rooms together with a small kitchen area and toilet facilities including disabled toilets. This facility will be made available to voluntary, community and religious organisations and to the public. Religious study classes will also be held at the facility.