CHURCHTOWN CONGREGATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN IRELAND TRUSTEES ANNUAL REPORT (cont'd)

Structure and Management

The Kirk Session

The charity trustees of the congregation are the members of its Kirk Session. Under the congregation's governing document, The Code, the book of the constitution and government of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, the Kirk Session seeks to watch over and promote the spiritual interest of the congregation and of persons not connected with any congregation who are within its bounds. It ensures pastoral care is in place in the congregation and seeks to further the contribution of the Church to Christian witness and service in the local community. The Kirk Session has delegated to its Congregational Committee the temporal affairs of the congregation including administering all funds and property belonging to the congregation. Members of the Kirk Session are ex-officio members of the Congregational Committee.

The Kirk Session consists of the ordained minister/vacancy convenor and the ruling elders of the congregation. All members are entitled to propose, speak and exercise equal votes at meetings, except that the Moderator, the minister in active duty in the congregation, has no deliberative but only a casting vote.

Stated meetings of the Kirk session are normally held bi-monthly, or as is deemed necessary.

To be chosen for the office of the eldership in the congregation a person must be a voting member and a regular attendant at its ordinances. The selection of those proposed to be called to the office can be either by the congregation or by the Kirk Session. Members are elected if they obtain two-thirds of those who vote.

Presbytery

Under the Presbyterian Church in Ireland form of governance the corporate oversight of a congregation is the responsibility of a Presbytery which superintends generally the spiritual and temporal affairs of the congregations assigned to it by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. Churchtown congregation of the Presbyterian Church has been assigned to the Ballymena Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. The membership of the Presbytery consists mainly of the active ministers of congregations assigned to it by the General Assembly, ministers who have retired from active duty and an elder appointed by the Kirk Session of each congregation.

The General Assembly

The General Assembly is the supreme court of the Church, representing in one body the whole Church and acting as its supreme legislative, administration and judicial authority, in dealing with all matters brought before it. The General Assembly is normally constituted during the first week in June for worship and to conduct its business. At the end of business it is dissolved. The membership of the General Assembly consists mainly of the active minister of each congregation, retired ministers and a representative elder appointed by the Kirk Session of each congregation.

Description and Purpose

The charitable purpose of the congregation is the advancement of religion.

Churchtown congregation of the Presbyterian Church is a congregation of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. The Presbyterian Church in Ireland, as a Reformed Church within the wider body of Christ is grounded in the Scriptures, and exists to love and honour God through faith in His Son and by the power of His Spirit, and to enable her members to play their part in fulfilling God's mission to our world.

The congregation's mission statement is as follows "by God's grace, we as a gospel shaped congregation within the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, seek to make and equip disciples of Jesus, through the proclamation of God's word, to the glory of God."

The congregation aims to live out its mission as a family of God's people by being:

- A Covenant Community: where our relationships are rooted in the promises of God by living faithfully toward him and toward one another.
- An Intergenerational Community: where adults intentionally take the lead to engage with, encourage and nurture younger members to maturity in Christ.
- An Outward looking Community: where we want the blessings of God that belong to us in the gospel to become blessings for others beyond the bounds of our community.
- As a congregation of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, we believe that the Bible is the supreme authority over all we do, and that the Westminster Confession of Faith, along with the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, set out what we understand the Bible teaches on key matters of Christian faith and practice

Activities and Objectives

The congregation meets for worship every Sunday and visitors were welcome to join. The Sacrament of the Lords Supper is observed on four occasions during the year and all those who have been baptised and who have made a profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ are admitted to the Lord's Supper. The congregation holds regular bible study and prayer meetings and has a wide range of organisations which seek to reach and disciple those involved. The organisations include:

Achievements and Performance

Worship and prayer

The congregation normally meets for worship each Sunday at 12:00 Noon (11:00am in July & August) and on the first and third Sunday each month at 7:00pm. A time of prayer is held before each service of worship. During the week there is a midweek meeting on Wednesday evenings at 8pm, providing an opportunity for members to meet together for fellowship, to study the scriptures and for a time of prayer. As well as our regular services during the year, we acknowledged God's gracious gift of new life at three Sacraments of Baptism. During the year we saw five members of the congregation pass away and we sought to comfort those who had been bereaved.

At 31 December 2022 there were 149 communicant members and 135 families connected with the congregation. The average weekly attendance at morning worship was 100.

Pastoral care

Members of the congregation who are unable to attend church due to sickness or age are visited on a regular basis by the minister, the elder for that district or by a member of the congregation. We also provide online livestream and CD ministry where each worship service is recorded and available to those who could not attend or are housebound. Members of the congregation are willing and proactive in supporting the practical needs of others where they arise. Efforts are made to engage with members of our local community who need pastoral support.

Mission and outreach

Our weekly services of worship are open to everyone in our community and beyond as they are streamed and made available online. During the course of the year certain worship services have a particular theme (e.g. Back to School, Harvest, Christmas and Easter) providing an opportunity to invite members of the community to join with us on these occasions. Events happening within Church life are promoted through leaflet drops, our monthly announcement sheet, recently launched website and social media through our Facebook page.

Our varied range of organisations provided an opportunity to engage with young and old from within the congregation through their carefully planned programmes. They also gave an opportunity to reach out to the local community with many of our youth members having no connection to the congregation.

We enjoy excellent relations with our neighbouring churches. We shared some joint midweeks with Drimbolg Reformed Presbyterian and we supported the local Church of Ireland congregations in Tamlaght O Crilly and Innisrush at their special services held during the year.

The annual week of Holiday Bible Club and Youth outreach on the first week in August provided an opportunity to reach large numbers of children and youth from the wider community. This has proved to be a great way of sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ with children and youth, as well as making good connections with families in the area.

The church seeks to support local schools and engage with the staff and pupils there. Our minister regularly takes part in assemblies in two Primary Schools and occasionally in a Secondary school.

In November we held a Harvest Mission over six consecutive nights. The speaker for the week was the Rev Eddie Kirk, who brought a clear message and challenge from God's word. There were special items of praise and testimony throughout the week and the Mission was well supported by the local community. It was an encouraging week in the life of congregation.

In December we had a Christmas tree put up in the village and were able to host a 'lights switch on' event and outreach in the local community. There was singing from the community choir, a Christmas message from our minister, and festive refreshments and entertainment. Funding from Mid Ulster Council helped to make this event possible.

The congregation supported the United Appeal for Mission which is a central fund of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland ensuring that its target is met each year. This enables congregations to support the wider mission of the denomination and to do mission and outreach on a denominational basis beyond what the congregation could do on its own. The United Appeal Fund provides financial support for mission personnel at home and overseas, assists congregations with the deployment of locally based staff, enables church planting, provides grant support for the upkeep of church premises, assist with the running costs of Union Theological College (the Church's training college for ministry students), and financially supports congregation in the areas of worship, discipleship, global mission, outreach, leadership and pastoral care.

The congregation supported other Mission groups/people. This included the work of the Belfast City Mission, with particular interest and focus on Andy and Iris Williamson who serve in Ballysillan. The congregation generously supported the BCM Christmas Gift Appeal in December. Churchtown also established a gospel partnership with a church in Moldova through European Mission Fellowship. We welcomed their pastor to lead a Sunday Service in October where we heard about the ongoing needs and work in that region. We committed to support this work prayerfully and financially. At the end of the year the total given through our midweek weekly offering and evening services was divided among a number of mission agencies/groups.

In order to encourage young people being involved in short, or longer term, missionary work, locally or overseas, provision is made to financially support them. One young person was supported in her participation on a Scripture Union team at New Horizon in August.

Presbytery

The congregation was represented at the regular meetings of Presbytery by our minister and one of the elders. This provides an important link between the congregations and the wider structures of the church.

General Assembly

The minister and one of our elders were nominated to attend the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in Ireland held in Assembly Buildings in Belfast in June.

Property

The Congregational committee continue to provide oversight for the upkeep of our church buildings, graveyard and farm land. A new committee was elected in October.

Volunteers

The Trustees wish to acknowledge their deep appreciation of those who give freely of their time by serving on committees and helping with organisations and other church activities.

Public Benefit Statement

The Presbyterian Church in Ireland meets the public benefit requirement by providing benefit to its members and the general public by making known the Christian Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ through the advancement of religion.

The direct benefits which flow from the purposes of the Church include the gaining of an understanding in Christian beliefs as set out in the Bible and in the Church's subordinate standards (the Westminster Confession of Faith and the Shorter and Larger Catechisms) leading to spiritual and moral development and opportunities for response to Bible teaching. In turn, this framework leads to practical expressions of Christian beliefs and standards in the local community such as through the care of those in need (including the sick, disabled and bereaved).

Generally the above benefits are delivered locally by congregations and their members, or are facilitated through presbyteries or are organised and delivered centrally. Local delivery is facilitated by central resources in almost all cases. Public access is made known through the use of noticeboards, printed material, press advertisement, websites, and social media or in other ways.

The benefits are demonstrated through regular evaluation of the services and informal and ad-hoc feedback from members, their families, and members of the public.

The purpose does not lead to harm. The only private benefit flowing from our purpose is related to Ministers, Missionaries, Deaconesses, Irish Mission workers and Lay Agents who receive benefits as a result of their holding office or employment. However, this is incidental and necessary in order to further our charitable purpose. There are no other private benefits. The beneficiaries of this purpose are members, their families, other individuals that the Presbyterian Church in Ireland is in direct and indirect contact with, the community in which pastoral services are provided and other communities throughout Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, and worldwide which benefit from our engagement with and support for both Christian and other secular organisations, charities and individual members of the public.

The Kirk Session has had regard to the Charity Commissions Public benefit requirement statutory guidance.
