

My examination included a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also included consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from charity trustees concerning any such matters. No material matters have come to my attention during my examination of the accounts and I have found no matters that require drawing to your attention. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view.
